SILVER STATE SUMMARY

Spring has sprung in Nevada, which means we are officially halfway through our biannual Legislative Session. 1,037 pieces of legislation have been introduced thus far with the first large deadline having just passed on Friday, April 11th (first committee passage). ECAN has been monitoring upwards of 75 pieces of legislation on behalf of the Association. Our top priorities this session are:

AB 29 - Establishes requirements for labeling of pumps and dispensers for motor vehicle fuel at a dispensing site. The Association supports this bill as it creates standards for the labeling of all pumps across the state, eliminating confusion.

AB 44 - This is the Attorney General's "Price Fixing" bill that specifically calls out 'gasoline.' The Association opposes this bill. If passed, this bill would allow the Attorney General and their subsequent enforcement agencies to go after a business for raising prices for any reason. While supporters claim this is only to go after businesses who are defrauding customers, we see unintended consequences without more specific language around how enforcement agencies would determine which businesses are committing fraud or deception.

AB 279 - Tobacco generational ban.

The Association is opposed to this bill as it would create a generational tobacco ban to anyone born in 2004 or later.

AB 500 & SB 438 - Merchant bank and regulation of payments. The Association is in strong support of these bills which seek to create a State of Nevada bank which small businesses could use for credit card processing. This additional option for small businesses has the potential to reduce credit card processing across the state by upwards of 50% or $50 Million annually.

We're proud to share that ECAN had an incredible first "Day at the Nevada Legislature"

Our association members showed up strong, making a lasting impact through meaningful conversations with lawmakers, testifying in support of one of ECAN's top priority bills - AB 500. Their presence and voices made it clear: our industry is engaged, united, and ready to shape the future.

This day was more than just symbolic — it was strategic. Having our members directly in front of legislators helped put a face to the industry and highlighted the real-world impact of the decisions made in Carson City. Being there in person demonstrated the importance of our industry's role in Nevada's economy and communities, and it sent a powerful message: ECAN is here, and we're paying attention.

Thank you to all our members who participated and helped make this day a success. Your time, energy, and commitment matter, and your advocacy is making a difference.
